EDITORIAL

Jean-Luc ROUGE,
President of FF Judo

The French Judo Federation had the pleasure of welcoming a very large number of delegations to the World Championships in Paris last summer, from 23 to 28 August: 864 athletes from 131 countries. The best judoka athletes confronted one another on the tatamis at the Palais Omnisports de Paris Bercy Sports Arena in front of more than 11,000 spectators every day.

Once again this event will provide an opportunity to express the solidarity which is one of our fundamental values. The judogi pyramid will be just one of the charitable activities we will be organising. Last year at the World Championships we managed to collect more than 600 judogi. So, the pyramid will be there again in February ready to accept donations from spectators. The beneficiaries will be young people from less advantaged areas or developing countries, or in fact anyone in difficulty where judo might help them develop and integrate into society.

The London Olympics are less than six months away. This means that the Paris Ile-de-France Tournament will be charged with a pre-Olympic atmosphere. The list of athletes selected will be finalised here, in France. We intend to welcome them all with warmth and friendship, in true Judo spirit, and of course in true Olympian spirit.

EDITORIAL

Jean-René GIRARDOT,

Vice-president, General Secretary of FFJDA, Responsible for major events

The Paris Ile-de-France Tournament is one of the four «Grand Slam» tournaments organised by the International Judo Federation, the others being Tokyo, Moscow and Rio de Janeiro. The Paris Ile-de-France Tournament is host to the best judoka athletes in the World. For this reason it will already be a success with the spectators, and we are sure they will come in even greater numbers than usual for this pre-Olympic competition.

There will also be even more delegations and athletes than in previous years. This is why we have decided to have five tatamis at the POPB. The organisation of the 2012 edition of the Paris Ile-de-France Tournament has learned a lot from the fantastic experience of the six days of the World Championships last year. Everyone at the tournament should benefit: the athletes, the delegations, the spectators, partners and sponsors and not forgetting the media with the TV, radio, newspapers, journalists and photographers. The World Championships were televised to 140 different countries. We are hoping that Judo will make a real impact at Bercy, with its enthusiastic public, and not just in France, but via media attention in an even greater number of countries around the world.

EDITORIAL

Jean-Claude SENAUD,
National Technical Director

Welcome to the 2012 Paris grand slam tournament

Proud of their five medals and teams double victory during the last world championship in Paris, our athletes find again with great pleasure their place and habits into the Palais Omnisports de Bercy for this new worldwide event during which 56 french judokas (women and men) will give their best to win in front of their supporters.

It is the home stretch to the Olympic Games and the large participation of great international athletes will give a taste of the one expected in London 2012.

Face to this challenge, with the goal of the Olympics qualification will give to our French team all the reasons to perform at their best for our own satisfaction.

TOURNAMENT

THE 38TH EDITION OF THE PARIS TOURNAMENT

Quick History

2012 sees the 38th edition of the Paris Tournament.

When it started in 1971, the Paris Tournament had only men's bouts in 5 weight categories (-63kg, -70kg, -80kg, -93kg, +93kg). In 1979 the number of categories increased to 7. Women joined the competition in 1988.

The Paris Tournament left the venue of the Pierre de Coubertin Stadium in 2000 and moved to the Palais Omnisports de Paris Bercy Sports Arena, which has a spectator capacity more in line with the success of the tournament.

The Tournament's name has changed over the years. The phrase Ile-de-France appeared in 2002, and Grand Slam was added to its pedigree in 2009, when the Paris Tournament became the 1st Grand Slam of the new program of meetings organised by the International Judo Federation.

2012 News

This year the judokas will compete on 5 tatamis. The addition of an extra tatami will add more rhythm and spectacle to the competition.

The French Judo Federation is inviting its licence holders to participate in the success of this 38th edition by actually playing a role in the organisation of the tournament. During the Paris World Championships in 2011 the Federation asked for 200 volunteers to help at Bercy. It was such a success that they are going to do the same again for the TPIF.
